THE REBEL WAR DEBT.

Day by day we get a clearer appreciation of the importance of the 14th Constitutional Amendment, which the Democratic party so persistently fought, but which is now the law of the land, having been adopted by the requisite number of States. One of its provisions guards against an assumption of the Rebel Debt incurred in the prosecution of the Rebellion. But for this Amendment, proposed by sagacious and patriotic statesmen, no one can doubt that the national somner or later would be saddled with an enormous increase of the nation debt, while loyal men throughout the South would be compelled to aid in paying similar debts contracted by municipal corporations. The election of Gen. GRANT last November, and the return of a strong Republican majority in both Senate and House of Representatives, secures the integrity of the 14th Constitutional Amendment, and precludes the possibility of any assumption, in whole or part, of the Rebel Debt, by the General Government. The Rebel leaders understand this, and hence make no effort in that direction. But ignoring the Amendment, they seek to override it by action in localities where Rebel rule is still potent. Municipal corporations are asked to assume these debts, and suits are instituted to secure the same end. We have an instance at hand, which we quote from a recent number of the Richmond (Va.) State Journal—by the way a thoroughly loyal paper:

"Recently (says the Journal) an effort was made by our City Council to assume the payment of the small notes issued during the war to feed and clothe the soldiers of the Confederate army; and the question, although it failed through the loyalty of a majority in the Council has been brought before the Courts,—where all good citizens trust it may also fail. And now we have a decision from the 'pretended' District Court of Appeals sitting at Lynchburg, declaring the cities of Lynchburg and Danville liable for the issue of the small notes put in circulation during the war for war purposes, and all this despite the constitutional amendment forbidding the assumption of any portion of the rebel debt. As a matter of course, these decisions will be overturned by the United States Courts, or rather declared null and void, and the speculators who have bought up these notes at about the cost of the white paper on which they are printed, will not be allowed to successfully carry out their fraudulent designs upon the people; but, then, why must we submit to the expense of this useless litigation? The most shameful part of this business is, that the people who held these notes and bonds when the war closed, deeming them as valueless as Confederate promises to pay, threw them away as worthless waste paper, and the brokers and speculators gathered them up, and are now endeavoring to make these same people assume their payment."

Of course this game will be blocked when Gen. GRANT gets to be President and the Rebel States are put under loyal rule. But if these things are attempted now—in the face of the popular verdict last November, despite the Constitutional Amendment, and in the full assurance of the triumph of the Congressional policy of Re-construction—what might the country have expected had the issue in November been otherwise decided? It needs little sagacity to answer the question, or to estimate the immense importance of the triumph at the ballot-box won by the loyal men of the nation.

THE complications connected with the St. Thomas purchase are attracting much attention in official circles. It has been known that Mr. SEWARD was the first to apply to the Danish Government to sell the island. Denmark refused, not seeming anxious to part with the property, and intimating that the transfer could not well be made with a proper regard for her own dignity. After Russia had agreed to sell Alaska, this opinion changed. Mr. SEWARD made a new application, and Denmark agreed to sell if the people of St. Thomas desired, and the treaty was concluded without waiting for ratification. Mr. SEWARD urged that Denmark should order an immediate vote on the question. This was done, and the people agreed. Now, although the Senate did not act, it is understood that Denmark holds that in treating with this Government she could only know its Executive head, and as the whole sale has been concluded on her part exactly as requested by the State Department, that Government is in honor bound to take St. Thomas. After a formal vote of the people, Denmark does not desire to take them back.—The subject will come up in Congress at an early day. It is understood that Mr. SUMNER desires the House to pass upon the question of how far the national faith has been pledged by Mr. SEWARD's action.

IT is said the President is contemplating retiring all the old army officers over sixty-two years of age, in accordance with section twelve of a law approved July 17, 1862, which says that "whenever an officer shall have served forty-five years, or shall be of the age of sixty-two years, the President can retire him from active service." This will retire General Lorenzo Thomas, the Adjutant General; General Benjamin Brice, the Paymaster General; General Philip St. George Cooke and a dozen others of lesser note, and will give the President important vacancies to fill before retiring to the shades of Greenville, Tennessee.

THE Legislature of Pennsylvania will commence its next session on Tuesday next, the 5th of January. The contest for Speaker of the House has narrowed down between Mr. CLARK, of Philadelphia, and Mr. STRONG, of Tioga. The State Treasurer will be elected on the Third Tuesday in January, which will fall on the 18th of the month. Mr. IRWIN is a candidate for re-election. A United States Senator, in place of Mr. BUCKALEW, will be chosen on the Second Tuesday after the meeting and organization of the Legislature.

THE Washington National Monument Society has addressed an appeal to the pastors of the religious congregations of the United States, asking them to cause collections to be taken up in their respective churches, on the Sunday immediately preceding the 22d of February, 1869, the amounts to be remitted to the Treasurer of the Society in order that the work on the monument may be resumed. The appeal is signed by Andrew Johnson, President ex-officio; S. J. Bowen, First Vice President; U. S. Grant, Second Vice President; W. W. Corcoran, Third Vice President; J. H. Smith, Treasurer, and J. Carroll Brent, Secretary.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The winter weather has not stopped the work upon the Union Pacific Railroad, whose advance during the winter months will be constant, although, of course, less rapid than in the better working days of summer and fall. So much will be done, however, that the spring of 1869 will see the closing of the intervening distance between the Union Pacific and the Central or California division. Meanwhile, the Company gives ample security to Government that the road will be thoroughly built and equipped in accordance with law. The President has ordered the continued issue of Government bonds upon the road as finished, the recent special examining commission having borne decided testimony to the good character of the work.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON on Thursday last issued his expected amnesty proclamation extending pardon, unconditionally and without reservation, for the offence of treason to the United States and adhering to their enemies, to all parties concerned in the late rebellion, with a restoration to all their rights, immunities and privileges under the Constitution and the laws. Whilst the pardon puts an end to the Jeff. Davis case, and enables Breckinridge, Slidell, Mason and others, now abroad, to return to the United States, it does not relieve either these or any other parties from the disabilities imposed by the Fourteenth Constitutional Amendment. It simply relieves them from prosecution for treason. The proclamation has excited but little comment or feeling, having been expected for some time past. Republicans congratulate themselves at having arrived at the end of that sort of thing, and the Democrats fall to see very much in it. The old style rebel sympathizers are the only jubilant individuals to be found.

ON Sunday morning last, Wm. CURTIS, a prominent Mason and Odd Fellow, died of appoplexy, at his residence, in Philadelphia. He was apparently in good health, and fell from his chair while reading a paper. The deceased was Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the State of Pennsylvania, for twenty-eight years, and discharged the varied duties of that responsible position with great credit to himself and benefit to the order. He was Grand Scribe of the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania for a number of years, and has been actively connected with Odd Fellowship for thirty-five years, and widely known throughout the order as one of its most efficient advocates.

IT is said the statement of the public debt for the month of December, to be issued early in January, will show a decrease in the debt of about $8,000,000. During the month the receipts from customs have rather light, and will probably not exceed $11,000,000. The receipts from internal revenue have been about the same as usual. No interest has been paid during the month, and it is thought when all the returns are in a decrease of at least $8,000,000 will be shown. On the first day of January about $28,000,000 in coin will be taken from the vaults of the Treasury to pay the semi-annual interest on the Five-twenty bonds and bonds of 1881.

IT is expected that the President will send his veto of the Southern States Militia bill to the House immediately after the reassembling of Congress on the 5th of January.

AN INCIDENT AT ARMY HEADQUARTERS.—A few days ago a lady appeared at army headquarters in Washington, and asked General Grant if he could give her an office, enforcing her application with the plea that she had two sons killed in the late war, and that she was in need. General Grant heard her statement and then requested General Dent to further examine into the case, and if he found it one deserving of aid, to use his (Grant's) name as an indorsement for a position in one of the Departments. General Dent questioned the lady, and finally asked her under what General her sons were fighting when they were killed. The lady hesitated, and finally stammered out: "To tell the truth, sir, one was killed under Ewell and the other under Mosby." It is needless to say that the interview ended at once, and that lady did not get general Grant's indorsement.

FOREIGN.—The difficulty between Turkey and Greece continues, both powers having withdrawn their diplomatic representatives, and both preparing for war.—France, Prussia, Austria, and other European powers have been making efforts to avoid hostilities by means of a Conference to settle the question. Paris dispatches of Tuesday say that the details of the Conference of the Great Powers on the Eastern question have all been agreed upon and the Conference will I commence its session in Paris on Saturday next.

MURDER OF THE HON. J. E. EARLY.—ST. LOUIS, Dec. 23.—An encounter took place at St. Joseph to-day between the Hon. J. E. Early, a prominent lawyer, and Col. J. S. Green, also a lawyer, in which Mr. Early was shot and killed. The dispute grew out of an article which was published in The Herald yesterday, reflecting upon Col. Green as a lawyer, of which he supposed Mr. Early to be the author.

GEN. GRANT has determined to get at the truth of the outrages in Arkansas, which the Rebels blame upon the negroes. He has dispatched Gen's Babock and Porter of his staff to that State to inquire into the matter and make true report.

A WELL KNOWN Republican writer in Madrid, Emilio Castelar, says that a Republic has been morally formed already in Spain, as the Republican party carried all the great cities and towns in the country, except Madrid, in the late elections.

THE West Chester Republican says that the average price realized for the best farm land in Chester county, this fall, appears to be from $150 to $160 per acre. Some small tracts have brought a good deal more, but for farms of 95 acres and upwards, the above figures will be found very nearly correct.

IT has been said that the destiny of the world often hangs on the merest trifles. A little miff between Charles Bonaparte and his love Letitia might have broken off a marriage which gave birth to Napoleon and the battle of Waterloo. Suppose a little miff had taken place between Adam and Eve—what then?

THE Supreme Court of Georgia has given a decision sustaining the decision of a lower court, which held that the consideration of a note given for borrowed Confederate money was a good and valid one. The plea was the failure of consideration, in that Confederate money was an illegal currency—not money or any other thing of value.

THE weight of a gross of steel pens is but a few ounces, and it is not difficult to believe that it would take a good many boxes to make a ton. The largest pen factory in the world, on the French coast, uses sixty tons of steel a month in this manufacture, and there are a dozen other houses whose products are not much smaller.

A NEPHEW of Sir Walter Scott—William Scott, son of Sir Walter's brother Daniel—is an inmate of the charitable "Home" of the St. Andrew's Society of Montreal. He went to Canada in 1828, was injured by an accident some years ago, and is in feeble health. On week days this nephew of the author of "Waverly" saws and splits firewood for the "Home." He is sixty-four years of age.

LATER advices from Paraguay report that the allies have again been defeated at Villeta. The President of the Argentine Republic has neglected the efforts of General McMahon, the American Minister to Paraguay, to open negotiations for peace with Lopez, and the Emperor of Brazil, incensed at this attempt of his ally, threatens to recall the Brazilian Minister to the Argentine Republic.

MR. Micawber's bit of philosophy concerning income vs. expenses is familiar, but worth an occasional repetition: "My other piece of advice, Copperfield, you know. Annual income, twenty pounds; annual expenditures, nineteen, eleven and six; result—happiness. Annual income, twenty pounds; annual expenditures, twenty pounds, one and six; result—misery.—The blossom is blasted; the leaf is withered; the god of day goes down upon the dreary scene; and—in short, you are forever floored."

MRS. Augustus N. Dickens, widow of Augustus Dickens, the brother of Charles Dickens, the celebrated novelist, committed suicide at Chicago, on Saturday, by taking an overdose of morphine. She sent her children to the home of her brother-in-law on Christmas evening. They remained there over night, and on returning next morning discovered their mother on the floor dead. Mrs. Dickens has suffered much lately from poverty, being dependent almost entirely upon friends for the necessaries of life.

IT may be considered certain that the Forty-first Congress will meet and organize on the 4th of March. The general feeling among members has been that the law providing for such meeting was a good one.—There is a desire to settle the Speakership, Committees, and other questions promptly. The Senate is sure to be needed for Executive business. The present session is too short for many matters that need instant attention, and General Grant has within a few days expressed the hope that Congress would not fail to meet.

THE County of Boone in the State of Illinois claims to be the banner county of the North. It has 15,000 inhabitants and only 10 or 12 adult men who cannot read. It never has more than five or six paupers, and those are waifs floated in from the foreign population of other counties. There are no prisoners in the county jail and for three years not a resident of the county has been convicted of a high crime. At the last election the county gave 2,050 votes for Grant and only 306 for Seymour, while one town, Manchester, gave 176 for Grant and only 3 for Seymour.

THE FAT OX "GENERAL GRANT."—The immense white ox, General Grant, which weighs 4,865 pounds, was exhibited near the City Hall Park, New York, on Saturday. The animal arrived from Boston on Saturday, to be placed on exhibition in the Central Park Garden for the benefit of a Washington church. He has already done service for several soldiers' homes in the same way. It will be slaughtered in Washington early in March, and served at a dinner for those attending the inauguration of Grant and Colfax.

A SNAKE IN THE STOMACH.—Some physicians do not believe that snakes and other animals from the "outside world," can live in the gastric juices of the human stomach, but the Philadelphia Press is informed that there is at one of the medical colleges of that city a lady who is endeavoring to have a water snake taken from her stomach. She says that she swallowed it several years ago while drinking from a hydrant. It has grown quite large, and consumes so much of the food that the woman takes that she is most dreadfully emaciated. Some tales are told about it that seems almost incredible. Suffice it to say that efforts are being made by the physicians to extract the unwelcome intruder alive. If relief is not given soon the unfortunate woman must surely die, as she is daily becoming weaker.

ADULTERATIONS IN FOOD.

The New York World in its expose of the impositions practiced in the sale of adulterated articles of food, in the use of defective scales, measures, &c., says:

We heard not long ago of one of the great tea houses buying in a cargo of damaged tea from a vessel which sunk in the harbor. It was properly doctored and fixed up, and put into the market afterwards. A common adulterant of genuine teas is exhausted tea leaves. A few years ago there were eight manufactories for the purpose of redrying exhausted tea leaves in London, and several others in various parts of the country. The practice pursued was as follows: Persons were employed to buy up the exhausted leaves at hotels, coffee houses and other places at 2½d. to 3d. per pound.—These were taken to the factories, mixed with a solution of gum, and retired. After this the dried leaves, if for black tea, were mixed with rose pink and black lead, to face them, as it is termed by the trade.—The same practice is pursued in this country.

Perhaps the most general mode of adulterating the better grades of coffee in New York is by the admixture of inferior coffee. The Java is, of course, rich and comparatively expensive. The common South American coffee is cheap, has a flat aroma and a bitter taste. When the berry is burnt it cannot be readily distinguished from the Java berry, and of course, identification is lost after grinding takes place. We are informed that a new adulterant has been discovered in sweet potatoes, and that it is becoming quite popular with the sellers of ground coffee. It has the right color and taste, and it is not easily detected without the microscope. The common adulterant for coffee, however, is chicory. The use of chicory is openly acknowledged in some places, and even defended by grocers on the score of health and economy.

We have medical testimony that chicory is extremely injurious to health. Dr. Hassall says that taken constantly, prolonged and frequent use produces heartburn, cramp in the stomach, loss of appetite, acidity in the mouth, constipation with intermittent diarrhœa, weakness in the limbs, trembling, sleeplessness, a drunken cloudiness of the senses, &c., &c. Again, it is the opinion of an eminent oculist in Vienna, Professor Beer, that the continual use of chicory seriously affects the nervous system, and gives rise to blindness from amaurosis. Its use ought, therefore, to be discouraged, and grocers who sell it for coffee ought doubly to be put under the ban.

A DISTRESSING CASE OF SUFFOCATION.

On Thursday last John McDonald and his family moved into the dwelling, No. 1007 South 10th street, before it had been entirely finished. But one bedroom was in a condition for immediate use, and for the purpose of making it as comfortable as possible a stove was put up and a fire kindled.

The kitchen contained a gas oven, the flue of which passed up alongside of the sleeping room. At a late hour the family, which consisted of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, ther daughter Mary, aged five years, and Sarah Carr, the domestic, retired for night, leaving the door and windows closed. Mr. McDonald was awakened late in the morning with a choking sensation, the room being filled with gas. He immediately opened the door and windows and proceeded to arouse the other members of the family. This he found to be a difficult task, as they were in an unconscious state. He then succeeded in alarming the neighbors, after which he fell upon the floor in an insensible condition.

Every effort was exerted by those who were attracted to the house to arouse the suffering family to consciousness. Physicians were summoned, and they promptly answered the call. The proper restoratives were administered, which proved effectual to all, with the exception of little Mary, who died in a short time after the arrival of medical assistance. It is supposed that the flue to which the oven is attached was imperfect, and that the gas escaped through the stove.

THREE CHILDREN FROZEN TO DEATH.—We learn from a gentleman just returned from Bloomington, that a family, consisting of the parents and three children, the eldest about fourteen years of age, living about eight miles from the above named city, started in a wagon on Friday last for that place, to take the cars. As it was extremely cold the children were put down in the bottom of the wagon in some straw and wrapped up in a buffalo robe, the parents thinking they would thus ride comfortably. Nothing was heard from them until they arrived at Bloomington, but when uncovered they were found to be frozen to death.—They had thus parsed away without a struggle, and while the parents were pleasing themselves that they were warm and comfortable, death came and bore away the angel spirits, leaving nothing but cold and stiffened bodies. Sadly the bereaved ones returned to their home, bearing the lifeless bodies of their children, who but a few hours before had been full of life and enjoyment.—Peoria (Ill.) Democrat, 13th.

REMARKABLE AMPUTATION.—Some time in September last a colored man was injured at one of the stations on the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas Railroad. He was examined at the time by a physician of the neighborhood, who told him his injuries were but slight, consisting only of a bruised leg. Not getting well, however, and his foot flopping about loose as he walked on his crutches, he came to the city for surgical advice, and placed himself under the treatment of an old lady who has some reputation as a doctress. A system of poulticing was at once instituted, and the result was, that one morning last week, when the patient removed the old poultice preparatory to applying a new one, to his horror, his foot and about nine inches of his leg came off with it. The stump however, is now doing well, and the man, who is at the almshouse, will, it is thought, soon be able to get about on a wooden leg.—Alexandria Gazette.

THE Mobile Register, which ought to be good authority, says Southern planters are better off to-day than they were before the war. They are free from debt, and receiving more for their cottons than ever before. Formerly they were always one crop in debt, and belonged to their factors. Now, they have learned economy, and are their own masters. If all this be true of the planters, it can hardly fail to be true that the other classes of society are also included among the beneficiaries of the new order of things. Pre-eminently, in the South, does the planting interest lead all others, and in its prosperity is bound up the prosperity of all other. The Register, doubtless, pays a reluctant tribute to the advantages of a free, over a slave system, and, therefore, its statements and observations are the more valuable. We imagine the census statistics of 1870 will startle the adherents of the old system into the firm belief that

"the day
Which makes a man a slave,
Takes half his worth away."

A GHOST IN YORK COUNTY: The York True Democrat of this week is responsible for the following: One day last week a genuine believer of ghosts in the lower end of the county, while sitting coolly alone in his front parlor, was alarmed by a slight noise at the window, and turning his head in that direction, saw a sight that made his blood run cold and his hair stand on end "like quills upon the the fretful porcupine." It was no less than one of the sheeted dead, who had left its grave and gone forth on a nocturnal ramble among the homes of the living, and who had paused for a friendly glimpse at one of the true spiritual faith.—So completely overcome and horrified was the believer in ghosts, that he was perfectly transfixed in his chair, nor could he move therefrom until he obtained assistance about two hours afterwards. When assistance came, search was made for the ghostly visitor, but it had fled, and taken with it, in its bony arms, two fine turkeys and four Brahma Pootras which occupied a perch outside of the house.

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY.—Judge Norcross, of Galesburg, Illinois, having been called to the pastoral charge of the Second Presbyterian Church of Carlisle, has accepted the call, and will preach all the pulpit of that church on the first Sabbath in January.—John McCrea, Professor of Jabez Huston, left a bequest of a farm of 80 acres of land, in Illinois, or $1,000 per acre in West Pennsboro township.

FRANKLIN.—On Saturday night, 19th ult., the hardware store of Michael Fallon; Mercersburg, was entered by means of false keys, and a large amount of property stolen—including $175 in money, some notes, buffalo robe, set of single harness, two watches, spoons, &. Nearly all the goods were found on the following Tuesday morning under a hay-stack on the farm occupied by Christian Butterbaugh, in Ayr township, Fulton County. There was snow on the ground at the time when this offence was committed, and, it is presumed that that the booty was removed on a sled beyond arrest. Arrests have been made—among them Samuel Seylar, Williams Jones, two men named Reese and others, who are in the jail in Chambersburg. These parties are to have a hearing on next Tuesday, before Judge Rowe, on a habeas corpus. Another party, arrested in Fulton county, gave bail in $1500 to appear at Court.

FREDERICK.—L. Delashmutt has sold his farm, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad about one mile east of Frederick, containing 126½ acres, to Frank Myers, for a traction over $175 per acre, making an aggregate of $22,404.

WASHINGTON.—Mrs. Martha J. Rowe has sold the "Dairy Farm" adjoining Hagerstown, 35 acres, improved with house, barn &c., $150 per acre. Purchaser B. A. Gallinger.—Elias U. Winters has sold a small tract of land near the Antietam, well improved, containing 40 acres, for $6,000—purchaser Simon Middlekauff. The Herald says the average price in Washington County is about $100, although quite a number of choice farms have sold for $140 and $150 per acre.—The jury in the case of Daniel Dechert, editor and proprietor of Hagerstown Mail, gave him a verdict against the Hagerstown corporation for $7500 damages for allowing his office, types, etc., to be destroyed by a mob in 1862, and driving him out of town as a secessionist.—Solomon Fiery, residing near the State Line, Md., met with an accident which cost him his life. On Christmas day he went to Greencastle to meet his son, who had been going to college in Carlisle, and the two were on there return home when the accident occured. It seems the Creek at Broad Ford was frozen over. Mr. Fiery, who was on horseback, took a rail and rode into the Creek breaking the ice with the rail. While so doing, a large cake broke off and, coming down the stream, struck the horse and throwing him, swept Mr. Fiery off under the ice. His body has not yet been discovered.

FEARFUL HURRICANE IN CHICAGO.

The Chicago Journal of Tuesday says:

The heaviest gale, well entitled to the term of hurricane, which has visited this city and vicinity for many months, raged on Saturday and Sunday last its fury scarcely abating a minute until 4 o clock this morning. The effects of this storm of wind are similar to those on previous like visitations, of which Chicagoans have had plentiful experience. Houses and stores were hurled to the ground, and chimneys were lifted bodily from their resting places and landed in localities where their presence caused consternation and a precipitate scattering of humanity.

One tremendous building fell before the gale, and buried several surrounding structures, in one of which were a number of human beings. Other buildings unable to resist the force of the hurricane, also succumbed.

While the storm was at its height yesterday forenoon, a four story brick building, in course of erection, on Adams street, fell with a terrible crash. It had eight hundred heavy joists of good material, three by twelve inches, and was supported in front by massive iron pillars. How it came that a building of such apparent strength would collapse, passes comprehension.

Just east of the four-story structure was located a frame building, one and a half stories high, used as a wagon manufactory. Little was left of it, and its contents were probably completely destroyed. A small addition to the wagon manufactory in the rear, used for stabling purposes, suffered considerably.

A one-story house used as a tenement house, was buried. It was occupied by Mrs. Roucho, an aged widow; Mrs. S. Heath and his wife, Mrs. Tillu-ton, Jacob Waters, his wife and two children, one of them a baby, and his sister, Mrs. Dingman. These persons were in the house at the time of the crash. The crowd who had collected round the scene of disaster were greatly excited on learning that so many human beings were buried alive, and, as soon as possible, numbers of stalwart men went to work with a will, in the hopes of rescuing some of the unhappy creatures. After a brief season of patient labor, which seemed to be hours to the anxious crowd, the searchers were rewarded by the discovery, one after another, of the sufferers still alive, in all but two or three instances miraculously having escaped injury. The little girl was found lying on her side, her face covered with blood, which flowed from numerous flesh wounds. Mrs. Waters sustained such terrible excitement that it is feared she will die, her situation being now very critical.

Two newly-erected houses, two stories high, on Rhodes avenue, near University place, were blown down and utterly wrecked. They were constructed of wood and unoccupied. Other ravages of the gale are heard from every quarter of the city, but nothing further of any importance has as yet been reported.

TWO CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH.—William Monroe Abrams, his wife, and their two children, one aged six and the other two, dwelt in a small frame tenement in Dutches County, New York. On the 22d ult., Mrs. Abrams, having some purchases to make, set out for the village of Pleasant Valley. About an hour afterward a farmer from a hill a mile off saw smoke rising from the tenement, and satisfied that the house was on fire, ran at the top of his speed to the spot. He burst the door open and when the flames had been subdued the charred remains of the children were found in a remote recess where they had crawled in attempting to escape; and so firmly were they wedged in that the beams had to be pried up with bars before the bodies could be taken out. It is supposed that the children set the house on fire while playing with the coals from the stove.

STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.—Hon. Thomas H. Burrowes has accepted the Presidency of this College tendered to him by the Trustees a month or so ago, and has submitted a plan for its re-organization embracing among others, the following features: One student to be admitted from each county of the State, free (except board,) and one from each county for every twelve thousand of its population. The College will accommodate four hundred students, and will be supported by the interest of the proceeds of certain land scrip donated by the United States. The plan was approved, and will be carried into execution as soon as the details can be arranged.

THE advocate of woman suffrage will hold a nation convention in Washington city, January 19th, in which it is expected that Mrs. Stanton, Lucy Stone, and other leading advocates will participate.

CONFEDDRIT CROSS ROADS, Kentucky, Dec. 25, 1868.

The election uv Grant has a most depressin effect upon the undersigned. The fact is becomin painfully evident that I can not very long remain here. Uv course Grant will give the offis which I now hold to Pollock and uv course Joe Bigler will be his deputy. This will end me, or rather it hez ended me. Bascom last night peremptorily refoozed to give me credits for fifteen onles I cood in some way sekoor him in the matter uv pay. Sich is life! Bascom is rapashus, but my bowels are more so, and I wuz compelled to give him a mail bag for enuff to last me two days.

It don't require much figgerin for me to ascertain just how long I can subsist on wat Government property I hev in my possession. Two mail bags will buy enuff whisky for two days; the locks belongin to em one day more; the boxes I spose I kin sell for enuff to run on a week; and then there is the tables, chairs, stove, and a few other articles which I kin dispose uv. To recapitulate:

2 mail bags	4 days
2 locks	1 "
10 boxes with glass fronts no good as now, havin never bin posted	6 "
2 chairs	2 "
1 table	1 "
1 stove with place to heat water for whisky punch	6 "
Total	30 days.

There is the stamp with wich dates are put onto letters, the cancellin stamp, and one or two other pieces uv Government property, wich may possibly be made available for one or two more days. Then there is a possibility—a bare possibility—that some uv our people may send a letter containin a remittance to a gift enterprise; or some one abroad may send money by mail to some one at the Corners, in wich case I shel hev supplies for a longer period. But this is a mere straw to ketch at. Ez our people don't read they are not apt to send money on the strength uv advertisements, and besides they aint got the money to send. Bascom hez it all.

From this time out my life is prolonged misery. I'm like a man in a boat in the rapids uv Niagary; the plunge over the falls must come.

In cleaning out the Government property I hev in my possession, I am only follerin Dimocratic precedent. Wat wuz left, let me ask, when Buchanan's people went out uv place? It's my misfortoon and A. Johnson's crime, that I'm in a place where there is so little to steal. A. Johnson hez, in this, yoosed me most vilely. I hev labored for him: I hev supported him—and this is the beggarly reward for a sacrifis so great! There are hundreds which never did the half I hev for him; who hev places in the public robbery, and the schemers as public robbers. You are not in favor, said Grant, of directly or indirectly increasing the public debt while there is a party in the country that talks about repudiation. In the future, it is absolutely necessary that the people should have the strictest honesty in the collection of the revenue, and the strictest economy in all expenditures.

EXPERIMENTS instituted to test the practicability of reproducing forests in portions of the West, have, thus far, proved successful. Most of the forest trees grow readily from seed, and in a short space of time attain proper size which to sustain and supply. Cotton woods, maples, locusts, and black walnuts have in Nebraska acquired a diameter of from eight to ten inches in ten years. These results should prove highly encouraging to Western farmers.

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 23.—At the last meeting of the Connecticut Scientific Academy in this city, General B. S. Roberts, U. S. A., brought forward a plan of the great nation at undertaking about to be introduced to the public by the Chicago Board of Trade. It is a plan to connect the head waters of the Upper Mississippi, Illinois, and Ohio rivers, with the waters of Lake Superior, Lake Michigan and Lake Erie, and leveeing the Mississippi from Cairo to its mouth.

A WASHINGTON despatch states that Senator Sumner says that the subject of the Alabama claims has never been considered by the Committee on Foreign Relations, of which he is Chairman, and further, that he has never been able to ascertain officially the exact status of the pending negotiations.

The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the medicinal quality of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor me with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

WM. D HOLTZWORTH, Register & Recorder of Adams county

The Star and Sentinel.

Gettysburg, Friday, Jan. 1, 1869.

SENSIBLE.—Quite a number of our exchanges announce their purpose to omit the publication of their papers for a week, to enable all hands to enjoy the holidays. We have not yet reached that privilege in Adams county, but think it not a bad idea. We will think it over the coming year.

ELECTION.—The following gentlemen have been elected officers of "Grand Samaritan Lodge, No. 336 A. Y. M.," of this place:—J. F. McCreary, W. M.; D. A. Buehler, S. W.; A. J. Covor, J. W.; H. S. Benner, Secretary; John Rupp, Treasurer.

QUREY?—A correspondent sends us the following quotation, with the inquiry whether any of our readers can give the original authority for it—where it may be found:

"Tempora mutantur, et nos mutamur in illis."

Can any of our classical readers give the desired authority? If so, let us hear from them.

ELECTIONS.—By consulting our advertising columns it will be seen that elections will be held—by the Gettysburg National Bank, Tuesday, January 12; First National Bank of Gettysburg, same day; Mummasburg Fire Insurance Company, Monday, January 11; Adams County Agricultural Society, Monday, January 4; Gettysburg Railroad Company, Monday, January 11.

CHURCH BURNED.—The Bellefield Presbyterian church, in the 14th ward, Pittsburgh, Pa., was destroyed by fire on Sunday the 20th ult. Rev. D. T. Carnahan, formerly of Gettysburg, is the Pastor of the church. It was a new one, and had been occupied by the congregation but a short time. It was insured for $20,000, which, however, does not cover the loss.

RETURNED.—Our friend and correspondent, JOSEPH S. GITT, has returned from Maine, and will spend the Winter among his friends in this county. The weather "away down East" is too severe for Railroading in mid-winter, and work has necessarily been suspended on the Railroad, which Mr. GITT had charge of, until spring. We presume he will be prepared to give his services meanwhile to any persons wishing to avail themselves of his protessional capacity. His address will be New Oxford.

TAX ON BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS.—The commissioner of internal revenue has decided that building associations loaning money on real estate are liable to a special tax as bankers, as per section 79 paragraph 1, of act of June 30th, 1864, which says: "Every person, firm, or company having a place of business where money is loaned or advanced upon bonds, stocks, bullion, bills of exchange, or promissory notes, is regarded as such banker." This comprehends the loaning of money on real estate. As bankers, building associations should also make a return each month of the amount of capital used, for the tax of one-half of one-quarter per cent. as provided in section 110, act of June 30th, 1868.

CARRIER'S ADDRESS.—From sundry mysterious consultations between our "Carrier" and "Devil," with other move ments, during the past week, we take it for granted that the usual New Year's greeting is in progress of preparation, and that tomorrow (Friday) morning, the "Carrier" and his aide de camps will be on hand bright and early. From personal experience in our young days, we can testify to the eager expectations formed on such occasions from the liberality and generosity of those who seek after week, in fair weather and foul, wet and dry, warm and cold, are faithfully served by the Carrier Boy, with his budget of news. Give him a cordial greeting to-morrow in the shape of "quarters" and "halves," and both he and you will feel the better.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING.—The meeting of Farmers and others interested in Agricultural matters, in Agricultural Hall, on Saturday last, was not numerously attended, but an encouraging start was made. Josiah Benner was called to the chair, and some time spent in exchanging views on "Deep Ploughing" and other topics—participated in by Mr. Benner, H. J. Stahle, Thomas C. Norris, Samuel Herbst, H. A. Picking, J. H. McClellan, Isaac Deardorff, James McCullough, Mr. McMaster, and others. An adjourned meeting will be held in the Hall on Monday next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to discuss the subject of Fertilizers—the best, cheapest and most durable. The election for officers will take place in the afternoon.

MASONIC.—The Masons habitually commemorate St. John's day by social reunions. As St. John's day this year fell on Sunday, the members of "Good Samaritan Lodge, No. 336 A. Y. M," of this place, determined to observe the following night. Accordingly on Monday evening last they met in their Hall at 6 o'clock, and at 7 proceeded to Agricultural Hall, where Rev. Dr. McCRON, of Baltimore, delivered an eloquent address on the subject of Free Masonry—its antiquity, universality, essential principles and aims—in presence of a large audience, composed of ladies and gentlemen. At the close of the lecture, the members of the order returned to their Hall and spent the evening in a pleasant re-union. At 10 o'clock they partook of an Oyster Supper, at the "Eagle Hotel," got up by the clever proprietor, Mr. and his equally clever lady in a style hard to beat. The evening passed off pleasantly, with nothing to regret, and much to be remembered in the future.

ACCIDENT.—On Monday evening the 21st ult., Mr. Joseph W. Witherow, residing in the lower end of Cumberland town-ship, met with a painful accident. His two sons had undertaken to cut down a large white oak, and desiring longer than was expected, Mr. Witherow went out to see what was the matter. He found that the had sawed through the but of the tree, but it stood so erect in the stump after withdrawing they saw that the tree did not fall. Mr. W. undertook to strike the tree near the cut with an axe, when it suddenly started, the but striking him on the left leg and throwing him about 20 feet. His leg was badly fractured above the ankle, but he was not otherwise injured save a severe bruise on the shoulder. Dr. Motter, of Taneytown, assisted by Dr. Simpson, of Harney, set the fractured limb.

DONATION VISIT.—The members of Rev. W. R. H. DEATRICH's congregation, (Reformed,) made him a "donation visit" on Wednesday evening. About half-past seven a long line of ladies and gentlemen, bearing well-filled baskets, filed into his dwelling, and at once commenced "stacking" upon his tables a tempting variety of edibles, embracing all the luxuries and substantials of the season. The warm-hearted pastor and wife were, of course, very grateful for this manifestation of regard and good will, and so expressed themselves.

But the "exercises" did not end here. A large and comfortable shawl was handed the pastor, followed by the presentation to Mrs. DEATRICH of a splendid parlor carpet, another for the Hall, and still another for the stairway. The grateful recipients were overwhelmed. This succession of "surprises" was too much for hearts already overflowing. At length the pastor found words, and gave expression to their thankfulness in terms as warm and touching as donors every listened to. It was, altogether, a happy scene, and those present were "all the better for it."—Compiler.

PETERSBURG, A DESCRIPTION.—The Sabbath Schools of St. James' Lutheran Church in this place had quite an interesting Anniversary on Christmas night—the large church being densely crowded. Both the senior and infant departments are in a flourishing condition, the latter alone numbering about 125 pupils. A platform was erected over the altar. Over the pulpit an arch was sprung, bearing the motto "Glory to God in the Highest." From the centre of the arch was suspended a wreath of spruce, encircling a smaller wreath, and this encircling a star, with the motto "Prince of Peace." On each side of the pulpit was a large tree, containing gifts for the infant school and tapers to be lighted at the proper time. A friend has kindly furnished us the following memorandum of the programme.

The exercises of the evening opened with singing "The Sunday School Volunteer Song," followed with prayer by the pastor, Rev. E. BREIDENBAUGH, and singing by the Infant Department, "The Water of Life." Two monuments were then built up by nine boys and nine girls, each depositing a block and repeating a passage of scripture as the block was put in place. The monument erected by the boys recorded the attributes of God—Love, Power, Goodness, Wisdom, Holiness, &c.; that of the girls the attributes of the Christian—Charity, Brotherly Kindness, Godliness, Temperance, Knowledge, &c. An arch was then sprung across from the two pillars; surmounted by a dove, the infant school singing "Christ was born in Bethlehem." Eleven girls from the infant department then appeared on the platform, ranged in a semi-circle, and each bearing a shield with the reverse side towards the audience. After singing in common, each of the girls sang a verse separately and at the same time turning her shield with face to the audience and displaying a letter of the alphabet, until the motto, "Feed my Lambs," appeared in full. After chanting a verse in common, the smallest of the number knelt in the centre of the semi-circle, and recited a prayer, at the close of which all united in responding "Amen." This part of the programme was artistic, well executed, and attracted much attention.

The school then sang "Giving," when the offerings for the year were brought forward, with designs. The first, by the infant school, was a Cross bearing in gilt letters, with green wreaths, the words Love, Justice, Redemption. The cross was borne by three little girls representing the christian graces—Faith, with a bible; Hope, with an anchor; and Charity with a crown. Appropriate passages of scripture were then recited, sometimes in common, then in turn, with responses by the school boys and girls, during which the crown was placed on the cross, when the latter was set back on the stage, with the bible and anchor at the base. The offering of the Infant School was then read, amounting to $115.

The girls of the senior department sent up as their design a miniature illuminated church, surrounded by a yard neatly decked with evergreen, walks, &c. It was presented by two girls, one of whom repeated the words, "From the family to the Sunday School; from the Sunday School to the Church; from the Church to Heaven;" the other reciting Psalms 84: 1 and 2. The contributions amounted to $207.29.

The design presented by the boys was "The Rock of Ages," illustrated by a Rock on a moss-covered stand, borne by two boys, one repeating "He builds well who builds on truth"—the other, "And that Rock was Christ. Lead me to the Rock that is higher than I." The school then sang "Rock of Ages." The contributions were reported at $186.15—making a total of $568.44 for both schools.

Mr. BREIDENBAUGH, the pastor, received the designs as they were sent up, making appropriate remarks thereon, after which the Infant School recited in concert the 23d Psalm. Next 14 girls from the senior department appeared on the stage and performed the "Christmas Idyl," comprising singing and recitation in concert and separately. The infant school then sang "Hosanna," and the senior department "The Christmas Tree." During the latter exercise the trees were lighted up, and the gifts subsequently distributed among the little ones, each receiving a handful of confectionery and an illuminated pictorial card. The excitement and enthusiasm of the little ones at this stage of the exercises excited no little merriment among the audience. Order restored, the school sang "Joy! Joy! Joy!" when the benediction was pronounced and the audience dismissed.

The senior department, however, had still another treat in store. By invitation they repaired to the lecture room, where a bountiful supply of ice cream and cake was served up. The entire programme passed off satisfactorily, and the occasion will doubtless be a bright spot in the memory of all who were present. The officers and teachers of the school deserve much credit for the taste, tact, and zeal manifested in getting up the entertainment.

REFORMED SABBATH SCHOOL.—The Sabbath School of the German Reformed Church, in this place, had also a pleasant time on Christmas night. Three Christmas trees had been put up in the Church, the central one being a very large one reaching from the floor to the ceiling, with a smaller one on either side. The trees were laden with gifts for the children, and otherwise decorated and brilliantly lighted up with candles, presenting a bright and cheerful scene. The central tree supported an illuminated transparency with the words, "Glory to God in the highest—peace on earth—good will to men." The Church was well filled. After the usual exercises, the school sang a number of hymns, and Rev. Mr. Deat ich, the pastor, delivered a short but interesting address. The distribution of gifts to the children was a pleasant feature of the evening, occasioning a good deal of enthusiasm. Mr. T. J. Stahle, the Librarian, presented, in the name of the school, to Miss Ada Deatrich a handsome Hymn Book—to Mrs. Deatrich a copy of Smith's Bible Dictionary—and to Mr. Deatrich a fine copy of Shakespeare. The infant Department, through Rev. Mr. Deatrich, presented to their teacher, Miss Annie Danner, a handsome book entitled "Katrina," worth $10. We understand that a number of gifts were privately given—teachers to scholars, and scholars to teachers. Every thing passed off pleasantly—the officers and teachers of the school being amply rewarded for the labor involved in getting up the entertainment, by the evident gratification of the children and the audience.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—We happened to be present at the anniversary exercises of the Belles' Letters Society of Dickinson College which took place on the evening of Dec. 21, in Carlisle, and were pleased to find on the stage as one of the speakers chosen for the occasion our friend W. Scott Morrison, of Bendersville. He delivered the closing address of the evening taking for his subject the sentence "Let there be Light." His address was listened to with the greatest attention and in this respect was in striking contrast with many of the others, not even excepting that of the anniversarian. He treated his subject in a philosophical manner and while it far surpassed in depth and strength and energy of style any other oration of the evening, it was delivered in such a manner as indicated the true elements of the orator. BUYING WOOD.—As many persons have to buy wood for fuel, it may be desirable to know something of the comparative value of the different sorts. People often pay little regard to the quality of the wood they purchase, but take that which is offered at the least price, as though there were no difference between one cord of wood and another. The truth is the quality of wood is extremely variable, not only as between the different varieties but as between specimens of the same variety.—A correspondent of the Prairie Farmer furnishes some practical suggestions on this subject. He says wood grown on high land is capable of generating much more heat than the same variety grown on low land. So, too, wood grown in a northern latitude is preferable to that grown further south. The wood of old well-matured trees is of greater value than that of those of younger growth.

Wind-falls, that have been a considerable time on the ground, trees partially decayed, or wood that has long been piled in a damp place, is of comparatively little value as fuel, and should be bought at a very low price if at all. It adds much to the value of wood if it is prepared for the stove when it is green, it is then thoroughly seasoned, and is finally placed under shelter. Care, however, must be taken not to pack it too closely or to put it in a building badly ventilated, as it is liable to be injured by the dry rot. By far the most valuable tree for fuel is the shell-bark hickory. It is comparatively easy to work, burns freely, leaves no unburnt coals; while the bark, which in many kinds of woods, is of no value, is the finest kind of kindling. We believe, from the experience we have had in burning this wood, as from experiment with a view of determining its relative value as a fuel, it is worth at least a fourth more than maple and upward of a third more than beech. Oak wood differs in value very greatly according to the variety of the tree as well as on account of the difference of the locality where it is grown, and the thoroughness with which it is dried; white oak ranks next to hickory; yellow oak is of about the same value as maple, while the red and black oaks are rated about the same as beech. In this classification, however, we base our calculation on oak wood that is well dried as the wood with which it is compared; but this will not be the case unless extra care is taken with it.—The soft woods as a class are about half as valuable as hickory; some of them standing higher in the scale than others on account of their superior density. In the purchase of wood as in every thing else, there is quite a saving in buying a good article. It costs as much to haul a load of poor wood as of good, and the labor of preparing it for the stove is about the same; while the difference in the quality of the fiber, and the ease with which the dinner is cooked, argue strongly in favor of good wood.

THE MORNING GLORY.—Col. C. H. BUEHLER has received a large assortment of these famous base-burning Stoves, which on the score of economy, cleanliness, easy management, and general utility stand unrivalled and defy competition. The great demand for them last season taxed the capacity of the Manufacturers to meet the demand. They are much improved and will doubtless be ere long take the place of all other stoves for parlor, office store and shop. Call and look at them, at the Warerooom on corner of Carlisle and Railroad street, opposite the depot.

Also, on hand a full assortment of the best varieties of COOKING STOVES, including the Spear, Noble Cook, Waverly, Oriental, Washing, Barley Sheaf, Prince Royal, Royal Cook, Excelsior, &c. &c., all WARRANTED to be good bakers. If not satisfactory, they can be returned and the money refunded. Also, a large assortment of Hollow Ware and Tin Ware. Doty's Washing Machine and Universal Wringer. Call and examine. tf

☞Ayer's American Almanac, for 1869, has been received by A. D. Buehler, Agent for Gettysburg. It contains proofs to show that some of the stars have existed for sixty millions of years. We had not supposed such proof possible, but the Doctor gives it in a shape which seems indisputable. His witticisms have long made his book acceptable; his medical advice makes it indispensable to families, and now he adds the most startling problems of abstract science to its attractions.

☞There are many natural causes that are daily producing an injurious effect upon the hair, by slow but sure approaches. To those who are the victims of any disease of the scalp, a sure preventive is a public benefaction. This, we are told, has been found in the discovery of the celebrated "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative."—Worcester Spy. It

A SURPRISE.—We were astonished the other day at the number of persons we met on the streets, carrying packages of Dry Goods, Queensware, &c., and upon inquiring, found they had all come from DUPHORN's, corner of the Square and Carlisle street. He seems to have created quite an excitement with the low prices at which he is now selling goods. Give him a call before you make your purchases. tf

With our new Job Press.

QUERRY?—Why does everybody go to DUPHORN's for their Dry Goods, Notions, Queensware, &c.? Because he is selling more Goods than were ever before sold in the same store—consequently can afford to sell them cheaper. Don't fail to give him a call. Corner centre Square and Carlisle st.

HOUSEKEEPERS, and all others wanting anything in the house-keeping line, will do well to call at Col. C. H. BUEHLER's extensive Ware-room, near the Passenger depot, on Carlisle street, who has on hand a very large assortment of Stoves of the best manufacture, Cooking, Parlor, Office, and Chamber Stoves, for wood or Coal; also Hollow Ware, Tin Ware, Japan Ware, Britannia Ware, Bird Cages, and a general assortment of Kitchen utensils. Also Coal and Lumber of all kinds. tf

PRESERVATION OF HARNESS AND CARRIAGES.

A large portion of those who own harness and carriages, either through ignorance or carelessness, pay so little attention to their preservation, that in a few months they generally look soiled and old. If proper care is taken, this may be avoided. The principal difficulty results from allowing the mud to remain on for a long time or from the manner in washing it off, and we will give a few hints about keeping harness and carriages in good order.

Those who have the care of harness need not be troubled to prevent it from getting wet, for leather, if in good condition, is seldom injured by water. Care should be taken, however, to hang up the harness, and not allow it to be thrown into a heap on the floor, to lie and mould, instead of drying off. The leather should be kept fairly oiled, but the harness should first be taken apart and washed with soft water; and the oil may be rubbed in while the leather is moist, care being taken that the application is thoroughly made. For this purpose neats-foot oil is considered the best. If the harness also needs blacking, a little lamp-black should be added to the oil, and the rubbing should be continued until a white cloth may be used in wiping off the harness without being soiled. Leather varnish should never be used on harness. In cleaning the plating, rotten stone or whiting may be used, but generally an occasional rubbing off with a woolen cloth will be all that is necessary.

The first thing to remember in cleaning a carriage is that the mud which may accumulate is not to be taken off by rubbing; if it is dry, (and it should never be allowed to become so if it is possible to prevent it,) soak it well and let it get soft, so that by throwing on water it will run off. After the carriage has thus been thoroughly rinsed off, and all the corners cleaned out, the work may be finished with a pail of clean cold water and a good sponge; if the sponge is not clean it will scratch the paint. After washing, a piece of chamois should be used to rub all the paint and polished work until it is thoroughly dry. It is hardly necessary to say that no one who cares at all for a nice looking carriage will ever leave dirt in the corners.

There need be no fear of washing a carriage too often: if washed every time it is run out, and dried well with a chamois, there will generally be less trouble about the cracking of the paint. But the care of a carriage does not end with the washing. A suitable room to keep it in is always a very important consideration. A coach-house that is not properly ventilated, or in a damp place, where steam of any kind passes through it, will, in a short time, furnish the opportunity for destroying the best painted carriage ever made, and in these cases it is too common to attribute the fault to the painter.—Harness and Carriage Journal.

PROFITS OF FARMING.—At a recent discussion at the New York Farmers' Club in reference to the cash money profits of farming, it seemed to be general conceded that the business failed to yield seven per cent. on the capital invested. We were somewhat surprised that none of the debaters thought of giving the farm credit for the three great necessaries of life—house rent, table supplies and fuel. Viewed in this light, farming is the safest and best investment that can be made of capital. Take, for instance, $20,000; let it be judiciously invested in a moderate amount of land, and all the stock and implements necessary to its successful cultivation. The proceeds from such an investment will support a family in a degree of comfort, and even luxury, that would cost six or seven thousand a year here in New York; and where is the safe, honorable mercantile or mechanical pursuits that will yield six thousand on a twenty thousand dollar investment? The profits of farming except in a rare instance, will be found to diminish as we extend our operations beyond what is requisite for the comfortable support of a family, and this may be done as well on a hundred as on a thousand acres of land, and this is a strong argument for the subdivision of the great landed estate of the South.—Turf, Field and Farm.

WHEN TO SELL GRAIN.—When to sell grain is a subject of much interest to farmers. Whether to sell now, or to "hold over," whether wheat will be worth more next month or next spring than it is now, are questions which have puzzled the brains of many farmers. A farmer writing to an exchange paper expresses his opinion as follows:

"The better way for farmers is, sell when you are ready. Not once, nor twice, nor one year and another, but make it a rule. Trust not to your impulses; avoid being influenced by your feelings. It is often grasping; it is not healthy; is not to be encouraged.

"Many years of observation has convinced us that this is the right course. Save your interest, and waste caused by mice and vermin; save your grain from losses by fire accidents. Be contented, as you will be, if the responsibility is off your mind. You will lose, but you will gain also; your neighbor may triumph over you one year, or two; but your time is coming, and on the whole you are the gainer. This is experience, this is the truth in selling grain; it is the clean satisfactory thing."

DITCHING AND DRAINING.—In wet clayey lands there are frequently opportunities in winter for ditching and draining them better than can be found at any other seasons.—An old axe will cut through the crust of frost and earth and the numerous small roots that often form a net work in such soils. The best drains are those that are formed of stones of suitable sizes, but where these are not to be had a good covered drain may be made with pine poles—two of them forming the sides of the drain and the third resting above the two and over-lapping them.—Over these place straw, turf or cedar boughs to prevent the loose earth from passing through whilst filling up the drain, and the work is then done.—Md. Farmer.

BLACK BEAN SOUP.—Take nearly a pint of the beans, and put them in soak over night; in the morning put them on to boil with 3 potatoes and 4 onions. After long boiling, press all these through a colander, and add to them well boiled beef soup, seasoning well with the tomato catsup. The beef should be boiled the day before, and nearly all day; then when cold, skim off the fat and add seasoning and the beans.

THE GREAT CHOLERA PREVENTATIVE.
L
THE GREAT
Zingari Bitters.
THIS WONDERFUL REMEDY was discovered and introduced about twenty years ago by Dr. S. Chegaray, an eminent Egyptian physician.
He had long seen and felt the want of some remedy which would strike at the root of disease, and so prevent much of the suffering which the human family was then compelled to endure.
This great question was presented to his mind every day in visits to the hospitals and sick chambers, and gave him no peace of mind until all the principles that know, either now or will be found by time and experiment, and which were previously used in labor, he presented to the public under the name of Zingari Bitters. The effect of this preparation in the prevention and cure of disease was so marvellous and astonishing, that the demand for it very soon placed it in favor were bestowed upon him and the sacred title. His name was placed upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold medal with the following inscription by Dr. S. Chegaray, the Public Benefactor, was presented to him by the Viceroy.
The preparation has been used in several epidemics of cholera, both as a preventive and curative measure, and with such great success, that it has now introduced into nearly all the general hospitals of the old world.
The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, applies with marvelous force to cholera, and the safest remedy that can be used is to subdue the irregularities of the stomach and bowels and preserve the
All pathologists now agree that the system is born acts on the principle that the stomach and bowels are the receiving and distributing organs, and when kept them in working order, and free from all blood accumulation, the general health is preserved. Therefore on organic action. The Zingari Bitters are composed of nearly all other medicines, possessing the essential same substance.
The Zingari Bitters are used entirely as the above combine required to regulate the organs of Secretion and Excretion, thereby keeping the system in a healthy condition. The Bitters is composed entirely of roots and herbs, and can be used by persons of every organization without fear of injury. It is free from all mineral and other injurious properties.
Numerous cases of the most malignant character have been cured by its Cholera, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Stomach Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Fever, Ague, Nervous Debility, Neuralgia, Female Irregularities, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Colic, &c.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for useful ness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not s il white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
